Afghan Officials Visit Landrover Plant In U.K.

BIRMINGHAM, Mar. 14.—Two high ranking Afghan officials, now visiting Britain, had a very bumpy journey when they went to see the Rover Company's works at Solihull, Birmingham, in the English Midlands.

The two officials, Faqir Alefi and Abdul Ahmad Samer were taken in a Landrover round the famous Lanrover testing "Jungle".

The "Jungle" is claimed to be as rough a piece of country as can be found anywhere in the world, and conditions were particularly bad at the time of the visit because of heavy rain.

Afterwards Mr. Alefi commented, "I am very taken by the performance of the Landrover in these conditions."

The New Government

The new Government headed by Dr. Mohammad Yousuf which was announced last evening, has a great mission to accomplish.

The personalities included in Dr. Yousuf's Cabinet are men of experience and have proved their talent and ability in handling national affairs in the past.

What makes the job of the new Government difficult is that first of all, it follows a Government with an unprecedented record of accomplishments in the field of national reconstruction and economic development.

The new Government is expected to further promote this trend and utilize national resources to achieve greater progress in all fields of economic and social development.

The new Government has to make headways not only in economic development of the country but also it has to prepare the grounds for some fundamental changes in the social institutions of Afghanistan. These changes have been proposed by the former Prime Minister Sardar Mohammad Daoud to His Majesty the King and it has been announced that the proposals are to be handed over to the new Government which will study them in detail with a view to incorporating them in its future policies.

Dr. Yousuf in his policy guidance will provide for the statement, which he is scheduled to deliver later this evening.
Hfs might throw more light on this question.

Sardar Mohammad Daoud in his nationwide message on the Sunday said that his proposals were related to preparing an electoral law for the country and the separation of power in the three branches of Government. He has proposed for a sound and strong democracy he said.

It is indeed a trying time for the people of this country. It is up to them to make a success of these changes that are physical and mental efforts for going to take place in the country. It is the belief of every Afghanist.

Herat 'The Granary Of Central Asia'

ABDUL RAHMAN MIRI

The fertile province of Herat, the leading Saints and mystics of the 11th century are buried in addition to its agricultural pros-

But the beauty of Herat does not lie only in these details, however lovely each of these, singly, may be. It lies in the panorama of the city, which is the domination of the valley of Shindand. What To Be Done About Development Of ECAFE Area?

India warned on Wednesday that foreign-aid can be a total loss and a waste of effort unless precautions are taken.
Indian delegate B. B. Gujral told the Economic Commission for Asia and Far East foreign aid must be adequate in volume, to compete with advanced countries. But he observed that these of interest and with practical facilities for debt servicing.
Gujral welcomed assurance by the United States that she will give free access to primary commodities and simple manufactures from ECAFE countries. He said he hopes other advanced countries will follow this example.
During the last decade, Gujral said, India has achieved economic progress unparalleled in her history. For the first time, he said, production has grown faster than population, with industrial production increasing by 94 per cent and agricultural production by 40 per cent.

Lim Swee Aun of Malaya said his country embarked on a bold programme of industrialization, but lacks technical skill and capital.
He said the rate of industrialization has been steady but not fast enough.
New plants and machinery installed in Malaya are of latest models. Lim said, as is necessary to compete with advanced countries. But he observed that these of interest and with practical facilities for debt servicing.

Mr. Updait also suggested that ECAFE arrange a conference on the conservation of minerals in the area.
Soviet delegate A.I. Korolev suggested that ECAFE set a section for chemical industries in its secretariat.
A draft resolution urging step-by the Philippines.

The resolution would urge ECAFE countries to intensify their efforts in this direction. It notes that ECAFE countries have had very modest success in efforts to diversify exports and expand earnings.

Nasser Agrees On Summit Among U.A.R., Syria And Iraq
CAIRO, Mar. 14. (AP)—Iraqi Foreign Minister Taleb Hussein Shabib new home on Wednesday with President Nasser's agreement for later summit talks among Iraq, Syria and U.A.R. and continued discussions on Arab Unity. In an airport Press conference, Mr. Hussein and President Nasser "agreed in principle" to summit-meetings later with Syrian Prime Minister Salah Bitar and Iraqi President Abdel Salam Aref.

Although Mr. Hussein Shabib said he and President Nasser reached "complete identity of views regarding ways and means of achieving Arab Unity," it was reliably reported here that the UAR President is being cautious toward the Iraqi proposal for a Joint Military Command.

President Nasser is understood to insist that economic and political questions be discussed parallel with consideration for joint defence.

Mr. Hussein Shabib said no date had been fixed for the Arab summit talks. However, informants say the present target date is about April 15.
Mr. Hussein Shabib said "there is no obstacle standing in the way of unity" after his talks with UAR President.

THE LANGUAGE PRESS AT A GLANCE

The Magazine, "Economics", in one of its recent issues carries an article about the exploitation of gold from River Kokcha in northern Afghanistan.

The River Amu or 'Oxus', says the article, is considered to be one of the greatest rivers in Central Asia which originates at the snow covered mountains of the Hindu Kush and the Pamirs and its natural lakes.

One of these lakes is called "Sarkhall", which in fact is the very point from which the famous Oxus start.

The lake is situated at an altitude of over 4,000 metres. Oxus, continues the article it may be reminded forms a natural boundary between Afghanistan and the Soviet Union for nearly 1000 kilometres.

Both the river Oxus and Kokcha are flowing with terrific speeds. Oxus River feeds Ural Sea at a rate of over 1000 cubic metres per second. After crossing the mountainous terrain and before reaching the Ural Sea Oxus becomes navigable in a number of places across the low land.

With the help and technical assistance of the Soviet Union the Government has built a number of ports along this part of Amu in order to facilitate river transportation between the two countries.

Oxus has many tributaries the most important of which are Kokcha and the Kunduz and Khanabad rivers.

It is the river kokcha where gold is being extracted from by the local population. It is mainly in the dust form but it is not a surprising thing to find it in chunks along the river just before it joins the Oxus. Geologists have carried out profound studies on obtaining gold on a larger and more organized manner; but unfortunately it has been found out that no two experts have forwarded the same theory about the origin, the available quantity or the best method of exploiting it.

One such theory maintains that the river must pass over some gold mines, and wash away some of the dust containing the yellow stuff which weighs rather heavy.

Yesterday's Islah carried a picture of His Royal Highness Marshal Shah Wali Khan Ghazi, the Victor of Kabul, Her Royal Highness Princess Bilquis and her husband Sardar Abdul Wali with Dr. Mohammad Yousuf, the new Prime Minister at Kabul Airport before the Marshals' taking off for an official visit to the Indian Republic.

Another picture appearing on the front page of Islah was that of the former Prime Minister Sardar Mohammad Daoud bidding farewell with officials of the Prime Ministry.

U.S. Space Programme Switched To Military Goals Charges Moscow Paper
MOSCOW, Mar. 14. (AP)—The Soviet Army newspaper Red Star (Krasnaya Zvezda) said on Tuesday the American space programme is being switched to military goals.

"All the work in the conquest of space conducted by the United States pursues military aim," Red Star said.

At present, the United States is working hard to develop a pilot-space ship. This effort has been stimulated by the United States desire to be the first to put a man on the moon," it added.

Other delegates on U Thant's talks were "a continuation of the consultations on the Middle East situation. Particularly the situation in the Yemen."

U.S. And Britain Agree On Further Plans For NATO

LONDON, Mar. 14. (AP).—The United States and Britain on Wednesday adopted a two-pronged policy for providing NATO with a strategic nuclear force.

They agreed to press ahead simultaneously with two ideas:

1. The American plan for a polaris-armed surface fleet manned by mixed crews from the various Atlantic Treaty countries.
2. The British plan to assign some existing national nuclear forces, like Britain's bombers, to the NATO command, which would arrange such things as target selection.

This compromise decision came after two days of consultations between Mr. Livingston Merchant, President Kennedy's special envoy, and leading British figures including Prime Minister Macmillan and Foreign Secretary Lord Home.

A communique issued after the talks expressed Britain's continuing support for the American idea and the United States Government's backing for the British concept.

In particular, Washington and London hope this arrangement will persuade the West Germans not to seek their own nuclear weapons.

Volcano Erupts In Costa Rica

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, Mar. 14. (AP).—The volcano Irazu erupted with a thunderous explosion that sent people fleeing from nearby farms. Some pastures were buried under a six-inch layer of volcanic ash.

No injuries had been reported by 10 p.m. (0400 GMT Thursday), more than eight hours after the eruption began. Lava and ashes kept pouring from a new opening in the volcano and the sky was darkened by clouds of ashes.

The eruption, in Terago Province, destroyed a tourist platform near the mouth of the volcano. Authorities said that livestock in the area might be lost if not immediately evacuated.

U.S.S.R. Accuses U.S.A. Of Mars 1 60 m. Miles Shelling On Its Trawlers Away From Earth U.S. State Department Rejects Charges

MOSCOW, Mar. 14. (Reuter).—The Soviet Union on Wednesday said that United States warships twice fired on a Soviet trawler—refrigerator in the Atlantic on March 8 and demanded punishment of those responsible.

Indonesia And Holland Agree On Resuming Relations

NEW YORK, Mar. 14. (DPA).—The Netherlands and Indonesia have agreed to resume diplomatic relations, U.N. Secretary-General U Thant announced last night.

The resumption of relations implements the Dutch-Indonesian agreement of Last August under which the two nations settled their dispute over West Irian.

U Thant, in letters to the Dutch and Indonesian U.N. representatives in New York, informed each envoy of the name of the new Charge d'Affaires to each country and expressed his gratification that diplomatic relations are being resumed.

He also announced that the two nations, restoring "normal relations", would exchange diplomatic missions in the rank of embassies, but these would for the time being, be headed by Charge d' Affaires.

Indonesia, U Thant said, had decided to appoint Mr. Mohammed Sharif as Charge d'Affaires, and Holland was appointing Mr. Carl Dietrich Barkman.

Dutch-Indonesia official ties had been severed in August 1960.

In the Hague, U Thant's announcement on the resumption of relations between the two countries did not cause surprise.

U.S.S.R. And China To Hold Summit To Settle Ideological Differences

MOSCOW, Mar. 14. (Reuter).—The Soviet Union and the People's Republic of China have agreed on the need for a "summit" to settle their ideological dispute.

The text of letters exchanged between Moscow and Peking were published here last night.

The Soviet Communist Party called for a meeting at a "high level" and the Chinese Communist Party suggested that Mr. Khrushchev should stop over in Peking en route for Cambodia.

There has been no Soviet announcement here of any visit to Cambodia by Mr. Khrushchev. A Cambodian Embassy spokesman said: "Call us tomorrow morning."

The Chinese Communist Party added that if this was "inconvenient" a Soviet Communist Party delegation could go to Peking or China would send a delegation to Moscow.

Last night's announcement shows that the two sides are determined to come together to thrash out the Sino-Soviet ideological dispute. It follows on Monday's announcement that Mr. Khrushchev and Mr. Mao Tse-tung had agreed on bilateral talks.

A protest note to Washington, published in the Government newspaper Izvestia, said two cruisers of the Boston class and a destroyer fired four dummy shells at the Soviet vessel, 270 miles off Norfolk, Virginia.

From Washington AP adds: The United States daily denied on Wednesday night that any US naval vessel fired on a Soviet fishing ship last Friday 70 miles east of Norfolk, Virginia, as Moscow charged earlier on Wednesday.

A statement issued by the US State Department after a day-long investigation said there was naval firing practice within the area east of Norfolk in the Atlantic Ocean but that the nearest surface ship was 12 miles away.

The statement replied a Moscow protest charging that three U.S. warships fired dummy shells at a Soviet trawler. The protest denounced the firing as "an act of sheer wantonness which could have grave consequences."

The US statement said: "A thorough investigation has positively established that the Soviet protest of an alleged firing of a U.S. naval vessel on a Soviet trawler 70 miles east of Norfolk on March 8 is without foundation."

The statement did not identify the surface ship which it described as having been in the general area and a State Department spokesman said he did not know whether it was a Soviet vessel.

Mars 1 60 m. Miles

MOSCOW, Mar. 14. (AP).—The Soviet Rocket probe to the planet Mars is reported more than 60 million miles from the Earth.

The half ton space ship Mars-1 launched last November 1 is travelling at a rate of about 864,000 miles a day.

It is expected to reach the vicinity of Mars in late May, making the journey in seven months.

The latest announcement on Mars-1 position by the official Tass News Agency at the start of March gave the space ship position as 78,943,000 kilometers 52,522,000 miles from the Earth.

Stevenson Not To Take Initiative In Meeting De Gaulle

NEW YORK, Mar. 14. (DPA). U.S. Chief Delegate to the United Nations, Mr. Adlai E. Stevenson, does not intend to take the initiative for an interview with French President Charles de Gaulle when he travels to Europe shortly.

This information was given to the DPA correspondent here by a confident of the Chief Delegate upon inquiries regarding rumours that Mr. Stevensons European mission was of a highly political nature.

Mr. Stevenson would only visit de Gaulle if he was expressly asked by the President, the confident said.

The U.S. diplomat will not call on West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, either, who at the time of the Stevenson trip will be holidaying in upper Italy, unless Dr. Adenauer should desire the visit.

In Paris, Mr. Stevenson will see Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville privately.

In London he will meet members of parliament and of the press, but a discussion with Prime Minister, Harold Macmillan has not been arranged so far.

In Brussels, the Chief Delegate will meet Belgian Foreign Minister Paul Henri Spaak; in Bonn Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder and Defence Minister Kai-uwe Von Hassel.
